

Camden Capital Distinguished by Financial Times as Top 300 Registered Investment Advisor

Los Angeles, July 2020 – For the second consecutive year, Camden Capital has been recognized by the Financial Times as a Top 300 Registered Investment Advisor (FT 300). The 2020 edition of the FT 300 represents an impressive cohort of elite Registered Investment Advisory (RIA) firms across the country, with a group median AUM of $1.9 billion.

The FT 300 list is produced independently by Ignites Research, a division of Money-Media, Inc. on behalf of the Financial Times. The RIA firms were graded on six factors: AUM, AUM growth rate, years in existence, advanced industry credentials of the firm’s advisers, online accessibility and compliance records. There are no fees or other considerations required of RIAs that apply for the FT 300.

“Camden Capital is committed to providing clients with the highest level of service, and this coveted FT 300 recognition is further validation that Camden Capital is a leader in the financial services industry,” stated Camden Capital’s President and Partner, Rich Bursek. “Our team continuously strives to meet the evolving and dynamic needs of our sophisticated client base. I want to thank our devoted clients and dedicated employees at Camden Capital for this latest recognition.”

Camden Capital provides a holistic approach to wealth management, legacy planning and family office services for prominent high and ultra-high net worth families, business owners and entrepreneurs. The firm attributes much of its growth and success to referrals and seeks to develop long-term client relationships. Camden Capital’s independent structure, objective platform and underlying fiduciary duty differentiates it from other traditional firms, while a relentless commitment to achieving clients’ objectives, investment access, consolidated performance and tax reporting rests at the core of its value proposition.

Camden Capital has offices in Los Angeles, Century City, Manhattan Beach and North Palm Beach. The firm, and individual advisors, have been recognized by Barron’s, Forbes, The Financial Times, Financial Advisor Magazine and the Los Angeles Business Journal.
